ARNOLD'S COMBINED

FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN,

...AND...

NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county, the above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public.

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose, as it can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by an oil, alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from every general object.

As a LANTERN, it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be overset, or get broken, and can be used as a house lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm beside giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, &c., it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat-iron heat in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat apparatus can be put may be readily conjectured by every one. No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say any thing more respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just as telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.

Inauguration of the new City Government.

At 10 o'clock, A. M., on Monday, a large number of citizens assembled at the City Hall to witness the inauguration of the new City Government, and to hear the Address of Mayor Bowman.

The Convention of members elect was called to order by Hon. J. T. K. Hayward, the retiring Mayor; and the blessing of Heaven was invoked upon the past and present governments, by Rev. Mr. Cornwall, Rector of St. John's Church.

The returns of the Board of Aldermen, declaring the election of Hollis Bowman, Esq., as Mayor for the present Municipal year was then read by George W. Snow, Esq., City Clerk, and Mr. Bowman was introduced by Mayor Hayward, and the oath of office administered to him by the City Clerk.

The members elect of the Boards of Aldermen and Common Council were then qualified—the oaths being administered by the Mayor.

His Honor the Mayor then delivered his Inaugural Address, which was listened to by the audience with marked approbation. [We present the Address in another part of this paper.]

After the conclusion of the inauguration ceremonies, Hon. Spencer A. Pratt, Judge elect of the Police Court, made a few remarks, acknowledging, in appropriate terms, the mark of confidence which his fellow-citizens had bestowed upon him, in selecting him for the responsible office to which he has been chosen. He assured them he would discharge the duties thereof according to the best abilities, and without fear or favor. He remarked, also, that he received his present election as a testimonial to his former administration of a similar office.

The Convention then separated, and the two Boards assembled in their respective rooms.

In Common Council was called to order by S. F. Humphry, Esq., Clerk of the past Council; and the Board, by motion of Mr. Bradford, proceeded to the election of a President.

The whole number of votes was 21.

F. B. Mills had	13.

The Monster Steamship.—At the time of the sailing of the Arabia, there were about 1600 men employed upon the "great leviathan" belonging to the Eastern Steam Navigation Company, now in course of construction at Messrs. Scott Russell's & Co. She will be 23,000 tons register, and will carry about 12,000 tons of coal in addition. She will be able to carry 10,000 passengers, and will have eight screw steamers on her complement of large boats, four on each side. She is of most gigantic proportions, and a visit to her is a sight to be talked of. When she is completed and in the water, she will assuredly draw "all London" to her, and, in fact, be the greatest curiosity in the kingdom. It will cost half a million to launch her.

Treat Ratification Meeting.—The Albany Journal says in relation to the great Fillmore ratification meeting in that city reported by telegraph recently, that "somebody imposed a gross falsehood upon the entire Press about the Fillmore ratification Meeting. Instead of 2500 persons, as represented, not one-fourth of the number was in attendance. We stated the exact truth in saying that Fred Douglass drew a larger and much more enthusiastic meeting."

The Late Weather.—The business of New York has been much impaired by the cold weather of the last few weeks. For a period of about two months, from Christmas, few boats ran between New York and Providence and many other Eastern ports, and immense amount of goods of every description accumulated, awaiting transit. So severe a winter, it is said, is unknown to commerce, has not occurred before for forty years. The sailing vessels, which do the great bulk of carrying, cannot get run regularly, and a large portion of the business is done by steamboats, which now run without interruption, and the streets and ships in the vicinity of their berths are crowded by loaded vehicles. The immense fish trade between New York and Eastern ports has been greatly put down in its and, large numbers of loaded vessels have been frozen in for weeks. The dry goods trade of New York, however, it is said, has been the greatest sufferer as numerous number of orders for goods could not be complied with. The railroads, particularly the New Haven, has had the benefit of the obstructions to navigation.

The ecclesiastics of the Chelsea Hospital, by a remarkable Providence, were enabled to save another human life, through the said of a Newfoundland dog, belonging to Dr. Gilchrist, the surgeon of the hospital. During the evening the dog was noticed to be very restless about the house, so much so as to attract special attention and induce the men to watch his movements. Finding at length that she had attracted the attention of the people about the Hospital, the dog immediately set off from the house. She was followed, and led directly to a man a little distance from the hospital, lying insensible on the snow and nearly perish. He was immediately carried to the Hospital, and on the application of suitable remedies, recovered. It was afterwards ascertained that the sagacious and affectionate dog had discovered the dying man, and had stretched herself at full length upon the body, for the apparent purpose of warming it into sensibility, but finding this unavailing, had then set out for the Hospital to tell her master and the associates there. Well a man was dying almost within sight. Fortunately the people of the Hospital were observant of the movements of the intelligent animal, and rewarded her watchful fidelity by rescuing the object of its [illegible] death.—London Times.

New Publications.

Lewis Brazil: Or a Journal of a Visit to the Land of the Cocoa and Palm. With an Appendix, containing illustrations of eminent South American men in recently discovered implements and products of domestic industry and works in stone, pottery, gold, silver, bronze, &c. By Thomas Ewbank. With over one hundred illustrations. New York: Harper & Brothers.

This is a large and handsome volume, illustrated with good engravings, and comprising a series of interesting sketches of Brazilian life, manners, customs, and pursuits, written by the author some years since, after a prolonged visit at Rio Janeiro. His descriptions are very comprehensive, as well as minute. He notes everything which came under his eye—arts, buildings, trades, tools, slaves, animals, agricultural products, climate, diseases, amusements, population, antiquities, &c. &c. The Romish church and the licentiousness and corruption of its priests comes in for a large share of notice. Romanism, he says, rules Brazil with a blighting sway, and constitutes the only insuperable barrier to the progress of that country, as well as of other parts of South America.

The institution of slavery, as it exists in Brazil, is very fully described by Mr. Ewbank. We copy a few paragraphs to show that there as elsewhere, slavery has a most degrading and blighting influence upon the prospects of the free white mechanic and laboring men:

"The unavoidable tendency of slavery every where is to render labor disreputable—a result superlatively wicked, since it inverts the natural order and destroys the harmony of society. Black slavery arose in Brazil, and Brazilians shrink with loathing, allied to horror from manual employments. In the spirit of privileged classes of other lands, they say they are not born to labor, but to command. Ask a respectable native youth of a family in low circumstances why he does not learn a trade and earn an independent living; ten to one but he will tremble with indignation, and inquire if you mean to insult him! "Work! work!" screamed one; "we have blacks to do that." Yes, hundreds and hundreds of families have one or two slaves, on whose earnings alone they live.

Dr. C——, an old resident, says the young men will starve rather than become mechanics. As an example of the general feeling, take the following: the parties are known to me. A gentleman of eighteen was induced to honor an importing house with his services at the desk. A parcel not larger than a double letter was handed him by one of the firm, with a request to take it to another house in the neighborhood. He looked at it; at the merchant; took it between a finger and thumb; gazed again at both; meditated a moment; stepped out, and a few yards from the door, called a black, who carried it behind him to its destination!

In Brazil, all kinds of mechanical work are performed by the slaves.

To show the manner in which the slaves are worked, we give another extract:

Every gang of coffee-carriers has a leader, who commonly shakes a rattle, to the music of which his subjects file behind him chant. The load, weighing 160 lbs., rests on the head and shoulders, the body is inclined forward, and the pace is a trot or half run.

Most are stout and athletic, but a few are so small and slightly made that one wonders how they manage to keep up with the rest. The average life of a coffee-carrier does not exceed ten years. In that time the work ruptures and kills them.

A gang of fourteen slaves came past with enormously wide but shallow baskets on their heads. They were unloading a barge of coal, and conveying it to a foundry or assembler. The weight each bore appeared equal to that of a bag of coffee (160 lbs.)

A wooden ox stood to observe eight oxen drag an ordinary wagon-load of building stone for the Capuchine up the steep Castle hill; it rods at a time; to draw I noticed similar loads of stone discharged at the foot of the ascent, and borne up on negroes' heads.

No wonder that slaves shockingly crippled in their loins are so numerous.

Parisian Sights and French Principles, seen through American Spectacles; by James Jackson Jarves. New York; Harper & Brothers.

This is a second series of the author's sprightly sketches of life in Paris—the first volume having been exceedingly well received. The first chapter of the present work is illustrative of the French Aristocracy as compared with American Democracy. The author then treats of French matrimony, the Boulevards and Baths of Paris, Society and Shopping, the Prisons and Prisoners, the Grisettes, Sketches above Ground and below Ground, the Streets of Paris, the Generations of Fashion, &c. It is a very readable book—light, racy and piquant.

The Creole Orphans; or, Lights and Shadows of Southern Life. A Tale of Louisiana. By James S. Peacock, M. D., of Miss. New York: Derby & Jackson.

New novels patronably illustrative of the condition of slavery, have been plentiful as leaves on Vallambrosa, since the advent and wonderful success of Uncle Tom's Cabin. They have come about equally from either side of Mason & Dixon's line—but for the most part have fallen still-born upon the public mind. There can be no second Uncle Tom's Cabin—it is a book of a century—and no other will, for generations, take so strong a hold upon the universal heart of freedom. It is, in fact, enough to arouse the entire heart of humanity. The books which have been published in reply to Uncle Tom, although some of them, like the above, are passably well written and containing more or less of tragic interest in the plot, fail entirely in producing any re-action or even sensation in the public mind. They may be, and probably are, expensively read, but nobody hears of them afterwards.

Legislature of Maine.

Monday, March 14.

On motion of Mr. Butler the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a resolve in favor of G. L. Boynton and others, extending the time for paying certain notes in the land office.

Mr. Robinson proposed an amendment providing "that timber shall not be cut and drawn away from said lands during the time of the extension of the payment, as provided for in the resolves.

Mr. Robinson said that he opposed the amendment with a view to protect the interests of the State. He had understood that a large amount of timber had been cut from the lands, and none of the proceeds have come into the land office.—He wished to prevent this course of proceedings for the future. The amendment was rejected.

Mr. Swasey proposed an amendment providing "that no timber should be cut, except under authority of the land agent, on condition that the stumpage should be paid, and the amount endorsed on the notes."

On motion of Mr. Burrell the resolve was laid on the table.

Senatorial Reports on Kansas. The following is an abstract of the majority report of Mr. Douglas in the Senate on Kansas matters, with an abstract also of Mr. Collamer's minority report:

The report embraces the history of African Slavery in this country—entering into its Constitutional relations. The institution existed in all the Colonies of the original States. Six have retained it, while in the others it has been abolished. Since then eighteen new States have been admitted into the Union—nine of which chose to come in as free and nine as slave States. Every new State desiring admission has the right to be received on terms of equality with old States; regulating her domestic institutions and internal concerns in her own way, subject only to the provisions of the Federal Constitution. The Report refers to this principle as embodied in the Kansas bill, condemns the combinations entered into in the Eastern section of the country to control the destiny of the future State of Kansas, and quotes from a pamphlet entitled "The Organization, Objects and Plan of Operations of the Emigrant Aid Society, and a Description of Kansas, for the Information of Emigrants."

The Report then argues that no State has a right to pass a law relating to any Territory which it could not pass with reference to any State or any foreign Government; and gives a detailed history of the elections held in Kansas, by which the Territorial Legislature was chosen; denies that the illegal votes said to have been cast nullify the election, or that the removal of the seat of Government renders the action of the Legislature void. The Report discusses the Topeka Convention, and declares that the power to govern the Territory being vested in Congress, the people have no right to annul the territorial laws by action in a primary capacity. It proposes to carry out the recommendations of the President in his special message, by the passage of an act providing for the election of delegates by the people, to assemble in Convention and form a State Constitution, preparatory to admission into the Union on an equal footing with the original States, as soon as the population shall amount to 93,420 inhabitants. The Committee will also move an amendment to the General Appropriation bill, voting such amount as may be found necessary for the purpose of maintaining good order, and enforcing the Executive laws in Kansas.

Mr. Collamer read a minority report, which discusses the Slavery question in the Northern view, declaring that the system gives political supremacy to a practical minority of the people of the United States. The friends of peace and quiet had hoped the Compromise measure had settled the agitation of the question; but the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill reopened it, in consequence of the repeal of the Missouri restriction, from which all the present trouble has emanated. The repeal of that restriction gave a prospect of the unlimited extension of the institution of Slavery; and the North very naturally tried to devise means to avoid that result. It is the right and duty of all who oppose slavery to use all legal means to prevent its extension into free territory.

The Report states that the people of the Territory were over-awed and prevented from casting their votes by armed invaders from Missouri. Thus the Legislature was constituted in a fraudulent manner, and Gov. Reeder gave members certificates without a full knowledge of these facts. The Legislature passed acts by which Slavery was recognized and protected as an existing institution. The free State people were thus either driven out or reduced to submission. Finding the Government had become the engine of tyranny and oppression, the people assembled peaceably at Topeka, to take measures preliminary to the admission of Kansas into the Union as a State. The proper course now would be, either to repeal the Act of 1854 and organize Kansas anew as a free Territory; or, if Congress will not do that, let them declare all the acts of this spurious Legislature utterly inoperative and void, and provide a new Government for that Territory.

Boys may be required to build School House Fires.—From The Piscataquis Observer we learn that at the Criminal Term of the Supreme Court, Judge Cutting presiding, for that County, it was settled that boys attending school may be required to build fires. It was in an action, State vs Atwood Severance, for assault and battery upon one Alonzo F. Clark, a boy of thirteen years of age, son of Wm. G. Clark, Esq., of Sangerville. At the time the supposed offence was committed, the defendant was a teacher of a public school in Sangerville Village, and required the boy, who was one of his pupils, to take his turn of building the fire at the school house in common with other boys of suitable age and ability. The boy denied the right of the teacher to make this requirement of him, and his disobedience in this respect resulted in his receiving a very severe chastisement at the hand of his teacher; and it was for this punishment, that the teacher was called to answer. The Court instructed the jury that the custom of requiring boys of suitable age and ability to build the fire, had its origin with the establishment of our free school system, and that there never having been any statute regulating upon the subject, it was reasonable to infer that the Legislature had regarded the custom as sufficiently established as to render legislation unnecessary; that such custom had become law, and that the defendant not only had a right but that it was his duty to require this boy to build the fire at the school house his proportion of the time. Verdict not guilty.—Journal.

Bangor Daily Whig and Courier.

Mayor's Address.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

By the favor of our fellow citizens, we are now invested with the authority to manage and control the municipal affairs of the City the coming year, and by the solemnity of an oath have individually pledged ourselves, to devote our time and service, to the faithful performance of the duties severally assigned us.

In obedience to the requirements of our City Charter, and in conformity with the established usage of my predecessors, I avail myself of this occasion, to invite your attention to some of the topics that will come before you, for your discussion and decision. I shall not discuss in detail or comment at length on the various subjects that will require your deliberation and action, but briefly allude to some of the appropriate business on which you may be called to act; and for more specific information, refer you to the reports of the several officers who have had the immediate charge and management of the different departments the past year.

The Finances of the city will require your early and careful deliberation, and require the adoption of proper measures for raising the necessary funds and providing the means, by taxation, for defraying the current expenses of the city the present year.

The imposition of taxes for the payment of public expenses is always considered a burden, and the authority delegated for that purpose should be exercised with care and discretion, and the amount raised for public uses should be limited to the lowest sum practicable—consistent with the public good.

Sound policy, however, requires that the appropriations at the outset should be amply sufficient for the purposes to which they are to be applied, and in the expenditure, strict economy and prudence should be observed and practised; and only in extraordinary cases or unavoidable contingencies, should the officers entrusted with the disbursement of the public money be allowed to exceed the appropriations—nor should others than those at the heads of the different departments, be permitted to make any contracts or incur any liability whereby the city would be held responsible.

The Treasurer's report exhibits a full and exact condition of the Treasury.

The whole amount of Receipts and Expenditures the past year is $123,080 89. The excess of expenditures for all purposes over the appropriations and receipts from all sources is $757,04. The liabilities on account of City Agency have been reduced from the amount due at the commencement of the last year $3,065 90. The total amount of the permanent debt is $155,934 46.

Our Public Schools deservedly hold a high position in the public estimation, and it is gratifying to know that they continue to maintain that high character for usefulness, for which they have hitherto been distinguished. The moral and social worth of our common schools is too highly appreciated by the public for me to solicit in their behalf your generous and liberal aid and support, so essential to their advancement and improvement.

By examination of the report of the Superintending School Committee you will ascertain the transactions in that department the past year, and find some suggestions relative to its future wants and requirements. The whole amount paid for services of Teachers, and other incidental expenses, including $600 paid for Philosophical Apparatus for the use of the High Schools, is $18,417 99. Five new School-houses, with rooms sufficient to accommodate seven Schools, have been erected the past year at a cost of $7,941 75—making a total amount of $26,399 74 expended for the benefit and support of our free schools the past year.

Among the duties you will be required to perform will be provision for the wants of the needy and destitute who from misfortune or other causes require public assistance.

I refer their claims to your kind feelings and sympathy, and fear not but their prayer will be heard, and the petition of the poor be granted.

By reference to the report of the Overseers of the Poor, it will be seen that the expenditures of that department have been increased over those of the previous year, which has been caused by the high prices of the necessaries of life, the unusual severity of the winter, and want of employment for large numbers of our laboring population.

The whole amount expended in that department the past year is $11,284 72. It is not expected any additional amount will be wanted in that department the present year.

From the report of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department you will learn, the prosperous condition of that important branch of our public service. The engines and other fire apparatus are reported as in good order and sufficient for the purposes for which they are designed.

The whole amount expended in support of this department the past year, is $5,724,02. A similar amount will be required to pay the ordinary expenses the present year. An additional appropriation of $1200 will be necessary, if, in accordance with the recommendation of the Chief Engineer, you decide to construct two more brick and cement reservoirs.

Under the present organization of this department, each fireman is annually paid twenty-five dollars for his services, which are often fatiguing and dangerous. I commend their interests to your favorable and kind consideration.

The alarms of fire and calls on the department have been less the past year than for several years previous.

Our street and highway department will always require large expenditures and heavy outlays. There are seven bridges built across Kenduskeag stream, that have to be supported by the city, two of which will require extensive repairs the present season to make them safe for public travel. The great extent of our roads, and large amount of travel and the numerous heavily loaded teams, that pass daily over all our principal avenues, require large sums to be annually expended to render them safe and passable. Our sidewalks are another item of heavy expense, and are required for the health and comfort of the inhabitants, and cannot be dispensed with.

The Street Commissioner's report contains a statement of the manner in which the affairs of that department have been conducted, and the purposes to which he has applied the money appropriated for building and repairing streets and highways.

In consequence of the bad condition of the streets and highways at the commencement of the season, and the unusual obstruction of the same during the winter, caused by the drifting of the snow, the expenses of that department have been considerably increased the past year.

There was paid for completing the "Hogan road," $1738,91, for breaking out roads and clearing snow from side walks, $1050, and for repairs of streets and highways, $10,417,89; making the whole amount expended by the Street Commissioner, $13,206,80. A like amount will probably be required for the same purposes the present year.

The report of the Health Officer will furnish you full information in relation to the matters that have required his care and supervision, and the duties he has performed the past year.

It contains important suggestions and recommendations in regard to the removal of filth and other nuisances that exist in some parts of the city, to the injury of the health and comfort of the inhabitants. The action of the City Government may be necessary to enable that officer to accomplish the object required.

On a well regulated and efficient Police rest a great degree depends the public peace and good order of society, and on their vigilance we rely for protection against acts of violence to persons and property. Men for police duties should be selected, not only for their honesty and sobriety, their mental and physical qualifications to detect and convict for violations of law, but for their strong moral powers and activity in suppressing and preventing the commission of crime and prong.

The recent outrages committed in our public streets would seem to require precautionary measures and renewed energy and exertion on the part of the police to prevent their recurrence.

No report has been made by the City Marshal who performed the duties of that office during the first part of the past year; you will, therefore, be without any information or statistics in the police department, for a large portion of that time. You will have before you the report of the present incumbent, which embraces his proceedings during the time he has held the office.

In submitting these remarks for your consideration, let me assure you that I shall meet heartily unite with you in all proper measures you may adopt, and most cordially co-operate in all your efforts to protect the interests of the city and promote the public good.

In conclusion, let us earnestly and honestly endeavor to perform the duties now devolving upon us, acceptably to those whose interests we represent, and for the enduring good of those who may come after us.

HOLLIS BOWMAN.

Biddeford Elect Again. We give in another column the figures which show a complete and satisfactory triumph of the opponents of the Pierce Democracy in the municipal election held in this city on Monday last. Our present worthy and popular Mayor, D. E. Somes, Esq., is re-elected Mayor and the Republicans elected their City Councilmen and Aldermen in five of the seven Wards of the city.

Though extremely well pleased with this result, (neither ourselves nor our friends, who share with us in the pleasure of this victory, do not strike a fallen enemy, or assume there is any derisive shouts or unearthly groans. We congratulate all real friends of freedom and of temperance and good order in our city, at the auspicious result, and declaring that it was our confident belief that Biddeford would stand erect again, as soon as the sober second thought had been taken—welcome the victory, and the repentant and certain coming guest. To be sure, personal spleen, and disappointed ambition aided by strong partisan feelings in favor of Pierce Democracy took rather rank ground in the contest, and endeavored to calumniate and libel some of our best men, but the force of the people, who are keen to perceive imposition, and to unveil tricks, have answered the calumniators, and vindicated the character of their fellow citizens who were assailed. The Republican voters of Biddeford, can afford to take the triumph with calmness and moderation of men whose principles are right. While their opponents were indulging in extravagant boastings, the Republicans were laboring earnestly for the right, appealing to the sound judgment of their fellow citizens and to the honest sentiments of the voters. Their victory is attended with no dishonorable act, and its consequences will enure to the benefit of all.—The Union and Eastern Journal.

The Transatlantic Telegraph.—The design of a telegraphic cable across the Atlantic is still in progress. The New York Herald says extensive preparations are being made for laying the cable, which is to be completed and in operation in 1858. The distance from St. John's Newfoundland, to the southern coast of Ireland is 1647 miles. The cable itself will be two thousand four hundred miles long. Two surplus lengths are to be served to make up for the inequalities on the bed of the ocean, and the drifting effects and winds. Two steamers will be employed to lay the cable. Each steamer will have twenty-two hundred miles, of the cable on board, weighing nine hundred tons, and after paying the ends of the coils and dropping them in the ocean, midway between the two points of land which it is intended to connect, will start for their respective places of destination. The whole work is thus believed, be accomplished in one day. Still the time it would be required for one steamer to lay from coast to coast. The cable is to be less than half the thickness of the three which connected Calais with Ireland, only two tons to the mile, while the weight of each of the last named is over ten tons to the mile.

Washington Matters.

Washington, March 17.

Mr. Everett has accepted the invitation of the citizens of Washington, to repeat his oration on the Character of Washington, next week; the proceeds to be devoted towards the purchase of the Mount Vernon estate.

A mass of documents were transmitted to the House to-day, in compliance with the resolution calling for the correspondence between the Secretary of War and Lieut. Gen. Scott relative to the pay of the latter as Lieut. General.

In a letter dated March 8th, 1856, Gen. Scott sends to Paymaster General, L. Loud, a memorandum asking payment in accordance with the terms of Gen. L. to Gen. Scott. The same day Gen. Scott informs him that he cannot do so, owing to important questions involved. Gen. Scott to Secretary Davis on the subject. Secretary D. to Gen. Scott in reply in which he states—"The resolution confirming the rank of Lieut. General was of the most limited character. The grade conferred not to be filled like other grades, but for the purpose of being conferred as an acknowledgment of past services, rendered in war expressly designated, and the authority conferred is so limited that when once exercised it is gone forever. Mr. D. however, then appealed to the Attorney General for his opinion on the subject. Gen. Scott meanwhile learning by rumors that a Treasury functionary at Washington had unconstitutionally suggested that his claim might be rejected on the ground that a statute originally creating the rank of Lieut. General had been repealed, endeavored to anticipate the suggestion in Mr. Davis' letter by another statement of the case, and in the one previously sent. Mr. Davis replies, again—"In regard to the confidence which you express with regard to the claim, it is proper to inform you that I have not come to the same conclusion, and hence the necessity of reference to the Att'y General." The documents comprise the opinion of eminent counsel, sustaining Gen. Scott's views as to pay, together with the written argument of the Attorney General in favor of the President's sanction of the same, and Gen. Scott's receipt of $10,406, as awarded under the decision of the President.

Glen Scott to Paymaster Larned. Nov 5th says, "I learned that Mr. Sec'y Davis withheld from the Att'y General every paper springing from the face of the city accounts themselves, and substituted a leading question in lieu of all upon the occasion whatever—in which there is not even any law fixing the compensation. They never retained them in his own hands, and after another delay of more than nine weeks had obtained from the President a decision again in accordance with the instructions and the highest rate of for the pay loss of about $3000 per year."

The Sec'y of War, in communicating these facts, says the greater part of the correspondence is not within the scope of the resolution.

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 17.

SENATE. Mr. Douglas from the Committee on Territories, reported a bill authorizing the people of Kansas to form a Constitution and State Government, preparatory to her admission into the Union, when she shall have a requisite population.

Mr. Clayton spoke in relation to the construction of the Clayton and Bulwer treaty, and Central American affairs generally. He was pleased at the extraordinary degree of unanimity shown during the discussions in the Senate with regard to the construction of that treaty. All gentlemen had agreed in repudiating utterly as unworthy their regard, that construction given by the British Government, namely, that it was only to have prospective operation, thus leaving Great Britain in undisputed possession of that country, and all the rights she had prior to 1850 while it debarred them from any right or possession whatever; such a construction was an after thought, and an attempt to evade treaty obligations.

Mr. Clayton alluded to the great importance of an inter-oceanic canal. He had looked at the reports of explorations for the Pacific Railroad, and while he was sorry to dispell an illusion so pleasant, he believed no railroad to the Pacific will be built for many years to come. Such a road should be made, it would not give the facilities we desire and which would be obtained by a passage through the Isthmus. Unless the country be blessed more than any other we shall, before the road is built, be involved in war with some of the greatest powers of the earth. He approved the whole conduct of the administration relative to the difficulties with England, and highly eulogized the State papers of Messrs. Marcy and Buchanan. He was also gratified at the energy with which the administration had put down filibustering schemes, and he denounced Walker as a ruffian, a buccaneer and a pirate. Mr C. was no partisan of the President's, but when our foreign relations are conducted with signal ability he was willing to give the administration credit.

Mr Clayton having alluded to Walker's seizure of the vessels of the Transit Co., Mr Seward inquired whether that Company had not connived at Walker's proceedings.

Mr Clayton had seen no such statement, and did not know its truth. If it was true, it was a high-handed outrage was liable to restore the possessed chattels to their own lips.

Mr Weller gave notice that he should have something to say, for he differed widely from Mr Clayton relative to Walker's character.

The Senate passed bills for the improvement of the St Clair and St Mary's rivers in Michigan, for removal of obstructions at the mouth of the Mississippi, and for the improvement of the harbor of San Diego, Cal.

HOUSE. Mr Galloway advocated the resolution to allow the Com. on Elections to send for persons and papers in the Kansas election case. He said the country demands a full investigation, in order to expose the rascality by which the will of the people of the Territory was thwarted.

Mr Cox in defending Gov Reeder, said that Gov Shannon had been buried above ground by the people of Ohio, but the President had put on a angling rod and golden bait in Belmont county, fished him out, breathed into him new life, and sent him out to govern the people of Kansas. He contended that the governor of the Territory had been violated, and its legislation throughout founded in fraud.

Mr Clark said the committee asked the extraordinary power of sending for persons and papers on no other testimony than the memorial of Mr Reeder, there being no evidence in any manner sanctioning his position. It is Mr Reeder pleading in his own behalf, seeking the defeat sale of Mr Whitfield's offences, and his own justification. Mr W. was elected at the time appointed, but Reeder at an illegal election.

Mr Clark spoke of the writings of those who claim to be the special guardians of freedom, and who have sent out their agony in speeches as fearful of argument as they were deficient in foundations. It was Mr. Reeder himself who had planted the seeds of discord, anarchy and confusion in Kansas.

Mr. Robinson spoke in favor of the resolution, arguing that Mr Reeder was not stopped from further proceedings.

Mr. Richardson insisted on the legality of the acts of the Kansas legislature, and the validity of Mr. Whitfield's election.

Mr Wilson saw no necessity for continuing the discussion which had lost interest.

Mr Hammond said Mr. Reeder was not a constant in a legal sense, but a remonstrant for the people of Kansas. The House can inquire into the organic law of Kansas has been violated and whether proper elections were held under the Nebraska Kansas act. Adj.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, March 17.

Mr. Everett has accepted the invitation of the citizens of Washington to repeat his oration on the Character of Washington, next week, the proceeds to be devoted towards the purchase of the Mount Vernon estate.

A mass of documents were transmitted to the House to-day, in compliance with the resolution calling for the correspondence between the Secretary of War and Lieut. Gen. Scott, relative to the pay of the latter as Lieut. General.

In a letter dated March 8th, 1855, Gen. Scott sends to Paymaster General, Larned, a memorandum asking payment in accordance therewith.

Gen H to Gen. Scott. The same day informs him that he cannot do so owing to important circumstances involved. Gen. S. to Secretary Davis on the subject. Secretary D. to Gen S. intimating in which he states—" The resolution conferring the rank of Lieut. General is of the most limited character. The grade is reserved not to be filled like other grades, but for the purpose of being conferred as an acknowledgement of past services, rendered in a war expressly designated, and the authority conferred is so limited that when once exercised it is gone forever. Mr. D., however, then applied to the Attorney General for his opinion on the subject. Gen. Scott meanwhile learning by rumors that a Treasury functionary at Washington had captiously suggested that his claim might be rejected on the ground that the statute had originally creating the rank of Brevet Lieut. General had been repealed, endeavors to anticipate that suggestion in Mr Davis' mind by another statement fifteen days later than the one previously sent. Mr. Davis replies, saying: "In regard to the confidence which you express with regard to the claim, it is proper to apprise you that I have not come to the same conclusion, and hence the necessity of a reference to the Att'y General." The documents comprise the opinion of eminent counsel sustaining Gen Scott's views as to pay, together with the long written argument of the Attorney General, with the President's sanction of the same, and Gen. Scott's receipt of $10,406, as awarded under the decision of the President.

Gen Scott to Paymaster Larned, Nov 5th, says, "I learned that Mr Secy Davis withheld from the Att'y General every point springing from the face of the accounts themselves, and substituted a leading question in bar of all compensation whatever—viz. whether there is in force any law fixing the compensation. The Secy returned them in his own hands, and after another delay of three thus nine weeks had obtained from the President a decision against the double rations and the higher rate of forage, to my loss of about $3000 per year."

The Secy of War, in accompanying these documents, says the greater part of the correspondence is not within the scope of the resolution calling for information, and therefore cannot be properly extracted. The suppressed papers it is supposed embrace a fierce epistolery conflict between these distinguished gentlemen.

The Disaster at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, 17th.

Parties have been engaged all day in dragging the river. Fifteen bodies were recovered to-day, making 23 in all. About 20 persons are still missing. The coroner's investigation is not yet concluded.

The disaster alluded to was the burning of the steam ferry boat New Jersey on Saturday evening, while crossing the Delaware to Camden. In consequence of flooring pine, she could not be managed, and finally run upon a bar and burned to the water's edge. About 100 passengers were on board, and the steamer having neither boats nor life preservers, a great many were drowned. Many jumped into the water, and were picked up by small boats, and others saved themselves on the floating cakes of ice. But few names of the lost are ascertained.—Among them are a Miss Carman and John Little of Camden, N. J., Edw. Mossman, railroad conductor, Mathew Miller, broker, Mr Howard, clerk, and Mrs Slade and child.

Fires and Explosion.

CINCINNATI, 17th.

The lard oil and candle factory of N. G. Ropes & Co was burned yesterday, with the whole stock. Loss about $50,000. Insured in Eastern offices for $30,000.

At the same time, the planing mill of Lindsay, Smith & Mayer, in Covington, Ky. was burned. Loss $25,000: no insurance.

On Friday morning, a steam engine in a saw mill at Oakdale, Ind. exploded, killing four persons, and wounding three. The building entirely demolished.

BOCK AND ELECTION. On the third trial for Mayor, yesterday, Hiram G. Berry, the anti-Republican candidate, was elected by a vote of 632 against 613 for Mr Crocker. No votes reported for Mr Spear. A plurality, however, would elect.

The following is from the money article of the Liverpool Journal of the 1st inst:

"Everybody now expects peace, and nobody cares much about the terms. With the majority any peace will do, and even those most affected by it wish ardently that it was completed. The talk was that the pause, consequent upon suspense, is felt injuriously; that the shipping interest is particularly anxious; that the fall in the prices of certain articles deters from the sending out new orders; that the India market is dead, in some measure, for the closing of the Russian market, but that few will venture to send out orders until peace came to be dubious; that many vessels have been employed in carrying coals to the East; that the war ceasing, there will be more coals than will now be required for the use of steamers; that, in this business, fewer ships will be wanted, and that, consequently, there will be more vessels seeking freight; that peace, however, once proclaimed, the demand is likely to exceed the supply, and that for this reason among others, a speedy peace is desired.

A LADY IN A RAFFLE.—The Paris correspondent of the new York Express says:—

A young and beautiful girl, (oh! of course!) but unfortunately wanting in the aphetantic goods of this matter of fact world, has lately conceived the idea of putting herself up in a lottery. She has accordingly issued proposals, through some of the newspapers, to this effect. She values herself at 300,000 francs—which is dirt cheap for such fine goods. She offers for sale 300 tickets, at 1000 francs each, and, when all have been disposed of engages to place herself and the 300,000 francs in the hands of the lucky dog who throws the highest number.—The lady, however, manages her tickets in person, makes them "not transferable," and only sells to such applicants as she can pleasurably contemplate in the light of a possible husband. This bit of speculation has an American sound, but it is strictly French, I assure you. Another lady advertises in the journals for some benevolent gentleman, "between the ages of 35 and 45," to come forward and marry her daughter, "17 years of age, beautiful, accomplished, possessed of 20,000 francs per annum, and afflicted with the St. Vitus Dance!" The old lady thinks this would be a good chance for a physician. So do I.

ONE MILLION STROKES WITH A PEN.—A man lately accepted a challenge to make one million strokes with a pen and ink within a month; not to be mere scratches or dots, but ler-down strokes, such as form the child's first lesson in writing. The month was to be four weeks, and he was to abstain from the task on Sundays, so that he must average 36,000 strokes per day. On the first day he executed about 50,000 strokes; on the second day nearly as many. But at length after many days, the hand became stiff and weary, the wrist swollen, and it required the constant attendance of a surgeon or friend to keep making it, without interrupting its progress over the paper, with a lotion calculated to invigorate it. On the 23d day the million strokes, exceeded by some few thousands "to make assurance doubly sure," was accomplished.—N. Y. Mirror.

A drunken lawyer on going into church, was observed by the minister, who addressed him thus:

"I will been witness against you at the day of Judgment."

The lawyer, shaking his head with drunken gravity, replied:

"I have practiced twenty-five years at the bar and always found the greatest rascals to turn State's evidence.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Compound Fluid Extract Buchu

IS A CERTAIN, SAFE, AND EFFECTUAL REMEDY

For Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Weakness, Secret Diseases, Obstructions, Female Complaints, and all Diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether in MALE OR FEMALE,

from whatever cause they may have originated, and

No Matter of How Long Standing.

This popular and specific remedy is now offered to the afflicted, and guaranteed to cure all the above complaints It searches out the very roots of the diseases, driving out all the diseased fluids of the body, thus removing the cause and rendering the cure

Certain and Permanent

This medicine allays pain and inflammation, which other remedies invariably cause, and can be taken with less trouble and expense to patients. This infallible remedy has saved thousands upon thousands from the hands of

if not from premature graves In cases of infection, the Compound Buchu is the only article worthy of the least confidence of the afflicted in preforming

SAFE CURES.

It contains no narcotic, mercury, or other injurious drug, but is a purely VEGETABLE COMPOSITION It is very agreeable to the taste, creates no perceptible odor, and may be taken by persons of either sex without hindrance from business or medical advice, as plain directions for use accompany the medicine. Reader, if you have any of the above complaints, do not neglect them.

Delays are Dangerous.

With this medicine you can cure yourself, and thus prevent all exposure.

Truth must and will prevail

This medicine speedily and effectually cures the most virulent form of secret diseases, and eradicates every particle of infectious matter from the patient to a perfect state of Health and Purity—And as a medicine which must benefit everybody, from the simply delicate to the confined and despairing invalid, no equal is to be found at acting both as a Cure and Preventive of any of the above ailments.

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Compound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,
—FOR—

Purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from Excess of Mercury, exposure and imprudence in life, chronic constitutional disease arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scald head, Ulcerations of the Bones, Tetter, Pimples on the Face, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in various parts of the United States, and have given satisfaction in the various cases in which they have been employed, whether in town, country, hospital or private practice, they have invariably given the most decided and unequivocal satisfaction, and produced the most salutary and beneficial effects. Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country, and from the professors of several medical colleges recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as the proprietor recommends. Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparing them have been given, all of which of course will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt

These tinctures require no considerable care in the preparation, and the employment of Strength menstrua in successive operation to take up the extractive matters, and in consequence, are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert, by the unskilfulness and wilful management of persons unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations It is, therefore, of the highest consequence and importance to the public and to the respectability that there should be standard preparations of uniform strength and possessing the most advantageous combinations to effect the object desired. To effect this and overcome the evils complained of, I have made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu, and to discover the most eligible form for their exhibition The experiments have resulted most favorably and it is with much pleasure I announce to the public and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extracts, which contain all the virtues of the articles they are represented to be made from in a highly concentrated form, and are the most active preparations which can be made Two table spoonfuls of the Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon diet drink, and one teaspoonful equals in strength one gallon of Syrup Sarsaparilla or decoction as usually made

PRICES—

Fluid Extract Buchu, $1 per bottle, or 6 for $5
" Sarsaparilla, 1 " " 6 " 5

Certificates of cures and recommendations from distinguished professors and physicians, will accompany each preparation Prepared and sold by

TESTIMONY FROM MAINE

Capt Daniel Abbott, Brooklin, Maine, July 16, 1853, says "I was taken sick one year ago last April, upon my passage from Havana to Charleston, S C At the latter place I took medicine and procured a physician, but for ten days could obtain no relief, no sleep or appetite At last taking up a newspaper having your advertisement of "Hoofland's German Bitters" in it, I sent for some immediately This was about 10 o'clock. I took the first dose at 10 o'clock, and another at 6 o'clock, The effect was so rapid on me that I had a good appetite for supper, and rested well that night, and the next day found myself a well man—I have not been without your medicine since, having been sailing between Baltimore, Charleston, and the West India Islands ever since I have now given up going to sea and reside in this place where you should have an agency, as you could sell large amounties of it."

Jos B Hall & Co, Presque Isle, Aroostook Co, Maine, April 24, 1854, say "We herewith send you a certificate of a cure performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters We think Mr Clark to be a man of veracity, and have no doubt of the truth of his story

Messrs Jos B Hall & Co.—Gentlemen—In answer to your inquiries I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, has been complaining of a pain in her side for six or seven years, and about the first of January last was taken down and confined to the bed. The pain in the side was very severe, besides being troubled with pains between her shoulders and in her breast. From reading a number of cures performed by "Hoofland's German Bitters, I was induced to try them in her case, and sent to your store and purchased one bottle She had taken but a few days when she began to improve, and now, after taking only one bottle, she is enjoying better health than she has for years—She feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her cure entirely to the German Bitters WILLIAM CLARK.

Salmon Brook, Aroostook Co, Me

You should bear in mind that these Bitters are entirely vegetable, thereby possessing advantages over most of the preparations recommended for similar diseases

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U S PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St.,

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS—The subscriber, (late Agent of the U S Patent Office under the Act of 1837,) determined to present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements, whereby, on application prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, through him, within thirty days after the rejection

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere This testimonial below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R H EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office and there were some who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office, EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

[From the present Commissioner]

THE great and important events of the Present Military—now agitating the whole World, give to these publications a degree of interest they never before possessed. The current events transpiring between the hazy battle fields of Europe and the Crimea, are of themselves sufficient to furnish new and highly interesting matter for the pen of the able writers of the above periodicals, and flying rumors of the day, and the ponderous Tomes of the historian are often left behind in the living, stirring facts of the present, which will live long after they have passed away The progress of civilization and the arts, will also occupy a large space in their pages

The critical ability with which these periodicals are conducted, the fearless and independent tone in which they discuss all questions of Politics, Religion, Morals, Literature, Science and Art, and the high character of the writers who contribute to their pages, render them the most desirable publications of the day for the reading community

The Edinburgh Review, Westminster Review, and Blackwood's Magazine, are conducted by the most popular contributors, and are considered indispensable to a thorough knowledge of the times, by all who desire to be well informed in regard to the progress of the age in which we live

These Periodicals ably represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical—and each one is the recognised organ of the most influential portion of the community. The Edinburgh Review, Whig, Blackwood, conservative, and the Westminster, Radical, are the acknowledged organs of their respective parties, and as such, are received with universal favor by the reading community. Possessing unlimited means, and having the services of the most able writers in every department of literature, science and art, they are enabled to present to their readers a more correct and satisfactory record of the progress of the world in every branch of knowledge, than can be obtained from any other source, at a price even approximating to the cost at which they are furnished
